

CONTENTS

Foreword	v
Part I: Introduction and Overview	1
1. The NPT's Untapped Potential to Prevent Nuclear Proliferation	3
Henry Sokolski
Part II: The Nuclear Nonproliferation Treaty and Its History	15
2. The Treaty on the Nonproliferation of Nuclear Weapons (Text)	17
3. What Does the History of the NPT Tell Us about Its Future?	27
Henry Sokolski
Part III: The NPT and Nuclear Weapons – Articles I, II, and VI	65
4. How Will the Nuclear Weapons Story End?	67
Victor Gilinsky
5. Moving Toward Zero and Armageddon?	77
Henry Sokolski
Part IV: The NPT and Nuclear Safeguards – Article III	103
6. Peaceful Nuclear Energy and the Nuclear Nonproliferation Treaty	105
Eldon V. C. Greenberg
7. Spreading the Bomb without Quite Breaking the Rules	131
Albert Wohlstetter

8. Falling Behind: International Scrutiny of the Peaceful Atom	181
Henry Sokolski
Part V: The Rights and Benefits of Peaceful Nuclear Energy – Articles IV and V 211
9. It’s Called Nonproliferation	213
Henry Sokolski and George Perkovich
10. The Three Qualifications of Article IV’s “Inalienable Right”	219
Robert Zarate
11. Nuclear Technology Rights and Wrongs: The NPT, Article IV, and Nonproliferation	237
Christopher Ford
12. Economics of New Nuclear Power and Proliferation Risks in a Carbon Constrained World	385
Jim Harding
Part VI: Withdrawing From and Enforcing the NPT – Article X.....
417
13. Locking Down the NPT	419
Henry Sokolski and Victor Gilinsky
14. Enforcing the NPT and IAEA Compliance.....	423
Pierre Goldschmidt
About the Contributors	443

FOREWORD

The following volume consists of research that the Nonproliferation Policy Education Center (NPEC) previously commissioned along with previously published essays. Funding for this project came from the Carnegie Corporation of New York and the Ploughshares Foundation. The key project managers of these foundations, Stephen Del Rosso, Carl Robichaud, and Paul Carroll were generous with their time and their support. NPEC's intern, Kristen Gehringer, did much of the initial heavy lifting in preparing the book manuscript; along with NPEC's project coordinator, Tamara Mitchell, NPEC's research associate, Daniel Arnaudo; and the staff of the Strategic Studies Institute (SSI). Without their help, and that of Dr. James Pierce, the Strategic Studies Institute's Director of Publications, this book would not have been possible.

HENRY SOKOLSKI
Executive Director
The Nonproliferation
Policy Education Center